

What follows?
Isabella Luu

Yawns that appear
and take what follows,
My sweater wrapped
tight, yet not quite cold
The computer screen
glows

Typing and typing, I sit idle Wondering where paths collide and go Yawns that appear
and take what follows,
Am I following?

Today's work lays on the screen alive,
Finished for now, I sip
away from my water
The mouse grows cold
and the typing quiet
The computer screen
darkens

Another day finished as I pack up and go
My sweater packed
neatly, computer away Yawns that appear and take what follows
I have followed

Where have I followed,
you may ask
Through words typed and strewn across a screen Past slides and presentations with colours galore
Finished today until tomorrow
Bravo.
